

New partnership for a better holiday dialysis booking experience

To ensure you have the quickest, smoothest, and most reliable booking process for holiday dialysis, we have just partnered with an independent holiday dialysis booking engine, bookdialysis.com. This partnership brings you numerous benefits to you while planning and booking your holiday dialysis treatments around the world.

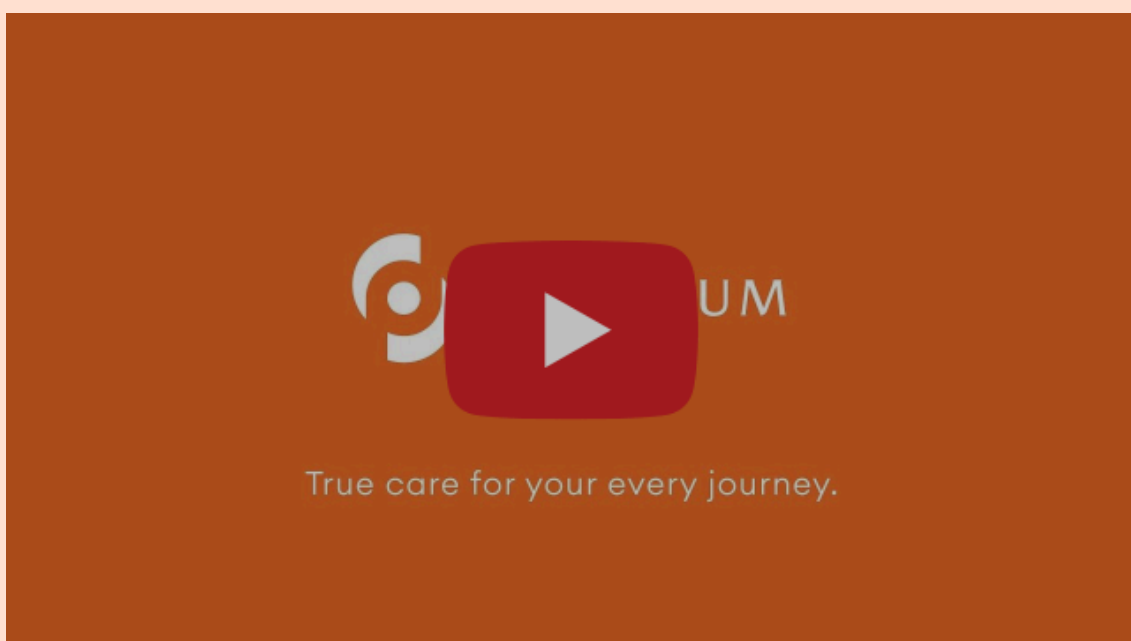

bookdialysis.com will provide your booking experience through its specialised contact centre and additional features, including access to information and support in nine languages. Our collaboration will ensure a seamless and supportive process for your holiday dialysis needs.

What does this mean in practice?

To date, you completed the entire d.HOLIDAY booking process – including selecting treatment dates, searching for clinic availability across our 24 markets, and booking treatments – via the d.HOLIDAY booking engine. Now, once you select your treatment dates and browse through the Diaverum clinic database on the d.HOLIDAY website, you will be automatically directed to bookdialysis.com to complete your booking.

If you have any questions about our new booking process, don't hesitate to contact us!

At Diaverum, we provide True care for your every journey

d.HOLIDAY enables anyone on dialysis to travel, whether for holiday or any other reason, with the full assurance that they will continue to have access to high quality dialysis treatment throughout their trip.
